The following Act of the Indian Legislature received the assent of the Governor General on the 7th March 1944, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. VII OF 1944.

An Act further to amend the Insurance Act, 1938.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Insurance Act, 1938 (IV of 1938), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Insurance (Amendment) Act, 1944.

2. Amendment of section 46, Act IV of 1938.—To section 46 of the Insurance Act, 1938 (IV of 1938) (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to a policy of marine insurance."

3. Amendment of section 48, Act IV of 1938.—In section 48 of the said Act,—

(a) in sub-section (2) before the words "be eligible for election as directors" the following shall be inserted, namely:—

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill is intended to remedy certain defects and meet some difficulties in the working of the Factories Act, 1934, which are explained in the notes on clauses below.

B. R. AMBEDKAR.

NEW DELHI;

The 24th February, 1944.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2. Amendment to section 9.—The particulars which are at present required to be sent before commencement of work in a factory are not comprehensive enough. A suitable clause is therefore being added to sub-section (1) of section 9.

Clause 3. Amendment to section 19.—The washing facilities under sub-section (3) of section 19 are required to be provided only in places where workers come in contact with injurious or obnoxious substances. It is, however, desirable that washing facilities should be provided in all factories. The restrictive clause in the sub-section is therefore being deleted.

Clauses 3 and 4. Amendments to sections 22 and 23.—Under section 22 of the Act "precautions against fire" can be prescribed, and section 23 refers to orders which may be passed by Inspectors in the matter of "means of escape". In a recent judgment of the Bombay High Court it was held that rules to provide for "means of escape" were ultra vires in that they have reference to section 23 of the Act for the purpose of which such rules cannot be made. Rules have, however, been made by Provincial Governments in this matter, and it is considered that such rules are desirable. It is considered desirable that rules as hitherto made should exist. Sections 22 and 23 are accordingly being suitably amended.

Clause 5. Amendments to sections 45 and 54.—Under the provisions of sections 45 and 54, no woman or child shall be allowed to work in a factory except between the hours of 6 a.m. and 7 p.m., and the limiting hours can be varied by a Provincial Government to cover a span of 13 hours between 5 a.m. to 7-30 p.m. Practical difficulties have been felt in this respect in the western provinces. The required hours in many cases cannot be worked within the present allotted span unless work is started in the morning at an hour which is too early by the sun, and which is therefore inconvenient. It is therefore proposed to extend by an hour the evening limits in sections 45 and 54 from 7-30 p.m. to 8-30 p.m. The proposed amendment will have effect only for the duration of the war.

49. ————. শেষের পরিচয়—

Śeṣer Paricay. [The last revelation.]—An unfinished story of the author published serially in the "Bharatvarsha" and completed by Sm. Radharani Devi after his death. It is a tragic story of the mental suffering of a woman forced by circumstances to leave her husband and infant daughter for social reasons without uttering a word in her defence from a high sense of self-respect. Behind her apparent life of a mistress of a libertine she leads a perfectly chaste life, for ever cherishing solicitude for her family and hoping for a reconciliation. After her husband's change of fortune, she tries in many ways to help him and her daughter in their sad plight but all her attempts are resisted. She still tries for reconciliation in various ways, but her husband and daughter although they fully believe in her innocence, stubbornly refuse her help for social reasons. In the end, however, when the premature death of her daughter leaves her husband in a forlorn state, she takes charge of him, this time without any opposition. Published by the printer, Gurudas Chattaraj & Sons, 203-1-1, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta. (22-9-1942.) Pages 380. Double Crown 16mo. 2nd edition. Rs. 2-8-0. Copies 1,000.

115. Barendranath Chattarji—জনযুদ্ধের রূপ ও কৌশল—

Janayauddher Rūp O Kauśal [Form and tactics of the Peoples' war]—Reference is made to the grave dangers of the inactivity and passive mentality of a certain section of the educated people of India who are said to be awaiting the advent of the Japanese aggressors under the delusion that freedom of India cannot be achieved without foreign aid, while forgetting that the Japanese can never bring freedom to India and that their advent will only mean a change of master. This sort of self-diffidence is a serious thing and is injurious to a nation's tradition and independence as well. India is the home-land of the Indians whose duty it is to defend her and it is deprorable that they should display a spirit of indifference at this critical moment when international situation offers them the opportunity of attaining freedom of their country. The idea that India's weakness is due to her disarmed condition is refuted and it is pointed out that the real cause of her weakness is the absence of a spirit of resistance. Attention of the Indians is drawn to the importance of a people's army in this war in which victory is impossible without perfect co-ordination between regular armies and the people, as the present war is a total war and as such needs a total defence which is only possible if the entire people become awakened to the spirit of a national resistance and a firm self-confidence. Attention is also drawn to the techniques and tactics of the guerrilla force as demonstrated in China and Russia. Published by the author, Uttarpara, Hooghly. (20-6-1942.) Pages 32. Double Crown 16mo. 1st edition. Re. 0-2-6. Copies 1,000.

116. Bijan Ray—জাপানী-শাসনের আসল রূপ—

Jāpānī Sasaner Āsal Rūp [Real form of Japanese Government].—Attempts to disillusion a section of the people of Bengal who are believed to have a sympathy for Japan and to be labouring under the baseless idea that the Japanese will help the Indian to achieve freedom by reason of a curious logic that the Japanese are friends of the Indians, because they are enemies of the English who are enemies of the Indians. The change of the phase of the war from that of an imperialist war to that of a people's war require close examination of the Japanese intentions which are nothing but to find a market and if possible an empire also. Attention is drawn to the activities of Fascist Japan at aboard and at home particularly where a sham constitution exists to act as a machine in the hands of the rich, for keeping down all agitation of the people for uplift and reform by

117. Buddhadeb Basu—সভ্যতা ও ফ্যাশিজম (সাহিত্যিকের জবানবন্দি)—

Sabhyatā O Phyāsijam (Sahityikér Jabānbandi) [Civilization and Fascism (Literatteur's deposition)].—A pamphlet with the theme of showing that Fascism is antagonistic and pisonous to the present civilization in asmuch as it aims at destroying the modern civilization with all its culture and glorious achievements in different spheres and that it is the duty of every one who believes in the human culture and historical progress (of the society) to oppose Fascism. Presented in the form of a narration in author's own words, about the course of his experiences through different outstanding political movements leading to his present abhorence of Fascism. Published by Satyabrata Chattarjee on behalf of the Fascist-Berodhi Lekhak O Silpa-Sangha, 249D, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta. (20-6-1942.) Pages 13. Demy 8vo. 1st edition. Re. 0-2-0. Copies, 1000.

118. Pratibha Basu—ফ্যাশিজম ও নারী—

Phyāsijam O Nārī [Fascism and Woman].—Reviews in general the low position of Indian womanhood while condemning the humiliating treatment meted out to them in the society and referring to the noble pioneers of social reform who felt for the country's womenfolk and worked for their cause. Apprehension is expressed to the effect that even the faint movement for uplifting the position of Indian women, heralded in through western influence, has of late received a setback under the influx of Fascist ideas which have dealt a serious blow to the feminine cause. Reference made to the low and humiliating position of women in Japan, a Fascist ally, notwithstanding its vanity of all its progress and civilization. Also contains two appendices about the aims of the league of anti-fascist writers and artists and an appeal to writers to stand up against the inroads of Fascism which is regarded an inimical to native culture of this country. Published by Satyabrata Chattarjee on behalf of the Fascist-Birodhi Lekahak, O Silpi Sangha, 294D, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta. (20-7-1941.) Pages 13. Double Demy 16mo. 1st edition. Re. 0-2-0. 119. Sushilkumar Basu—এ যুদ্ধ আমাদের—

E-Yūddha Āmāder [This war is ours]—Points out that the present war has undergone a radical change in its nature and has become a people's war instead of continuing to be an inperialist war as it once was in the beginning. The present war is being fought in the interest of the entire humanity and as such Itally concerns Indians also who should not sit as idle and indifferent spectators in this world crisis which has offered them the possibility of independence. Attention is also drawn to the futility of the belief that Japanese will help the Indian to win independence, and to a proper ascertainment of the duties in this present war which is being fought for the liberation of suffering people all over the world and for the demolition of imperialism. Exhorts the people to offer resistance to the Fascist aggression acting unitedly with a firm will and staking everything in the struggle. Published by the author, 9-A, Ramanath Majumdar Street, Calcutta. 1942. (2-7-1942.) Pages 5+109. Double Crown 16mo. 1st edition. Re. 1-4-0. Copies 1,200.

124. Muhammad Muzaffar Husain—ইছলামে পার্থিব উন্নতি—

Ichlāme Pārthib-Unńati [The secular prosperity in Islam]—Purports to say that the human instincts are always inclined to worship the creator, the Lord of the universe and to be acquainted with that supreme being is the goal of life. To achieve that end, humankind should follow the way which He directed to do and a deviation from that path means the destruction of the self. That way is Islam the sole aim of which is the salvation of humankind in this world as well as in the next. This religion is the law of God and is superior to any other system invented by men in the political, social and economical administration of the people and it is the only system which can ensure internal peace and external security. Traces out the causes of the depressed conditions of the Muslim community in the modern age and condemns the blind immitation of the Materialistic system of western civilization. Also invites the humankind to accept the pure faith Islam and proves that both secular and spiritual progress are simultaneously possible in it. Published by the author, Raipura, Dacca. 1942.
